Heritage Management

Session: 2022-2023

Course Coordinator: Dr. Chandrani Pal, Assistant Professor of History & Aniket Sarkar, SACT, Department of History

Course Duration: 30 Hours Commencement of the Course: April, 2023

Course Outcome:

India has one of the greatest volume and diversity in heritage. This vast heritage repository of India is recognized globally as significant part of its unique cultural identity. An initial survey indicates the total quantum of India's built heritage and archaeological remains may roughly amount to a total of 400000 plus heritage structures across the country including the centrally protected monuments, state protected monuments, heritage buildings under various religious trusts, historic cities and archaeological sites. This heritage does not just constitute the important markers of India's past but also presents a unique opportunity for generating employment and incomes through heritage tourism and local development. This Course will help students to:

- Define Heritage & Management.
- Describe characteristics and distinctiveness of the cultural and built heritage.
- Get ideas about alteration/redevelopment/construction as a heritage area, region or community
- Value, protect, conserve, interpret and foster India's unique and diverse Archaeological and Built Heritage as
 - a channel for continuing cross cultural linkages at the international level.
 - a means for nation building and testimony to India's cultural identity at the national level.
 - a development tool for socio-economic upliftment at the local level and sustainability for future generations.
