Mob:

- Good participation from the community, including farmers, women, and youth.

Weaknesses:

- Limited duration of the event may have constrained the overall impact of the program.
- Ensuring that the community sustains water conservation practices in the long term can be a challenge.

Opportunities:

- Collaboration with local NGOs, schools, and other community organizations could enhance the event's reach and impact.
- Potential for future water conservation workshops and training programs.

Challenges:

- Changing habits and attitudes related to water use can be a significant challenge.
- Maintaining continuous awareness and adherence to water conservation practices.

OUTCOMES

The "Jal Dharo Jol Bhoro" awareness program organized by the NSS Unit served as a valuable initiative in reaching out to the local community and raising awareness about the importance of water conservation. The event educated the community about rainwater harvesting and other water conservation techniques. It also promoted community participation in water conservation efforts. This program demonstrated NSS Unit's commitment to promoting water conservation and sustainable water management in local area.
