A BRIEF REPORT OF
ONE DAY STATE LEVEL SEMINAR
ON

Non-Violence Theory of Buddha and Rabindranath: 21st Century

Organized by: Department of Philosophy in Collaboration with IQAC

Speaker: Dr. Goutam Kumar Ghosh, Associate Professor of Philosophy, Vivekananda College, Madhyamgram

Date: March 04, 2020

Total Participants: 68

Objectives:

During ancient period Indian philosophy was essentially spiritual and was called Brahmical one. It is the intense spirituality of India and not any great political structure or social organisation that it has developed that has enabled it to resist the ravages of time and the accidents of history. Indian history is characterised by the idea of Supreme God, moksha, ahimsa, dharma and salvation. Both Dharma and non-violence are the essential concepts for achieving good life as well as the real goal of life. Buddhism was well known as a religion which professes peace and non-violence as the cardinal virtues. It recognised the fundamental, inter-relatedness and harmony of all life. Rabindranath Tagore was highly inspired by Buddha's ahimsa. This Seminar intends to understand relevance of nonviolence theory of Buddha and Rabindranath in the context of 21st century.

Brief Description:

The Seminar began at 1:00 p.m. The opening ceremony was inaugurated with welcoming the guests. It was followed by lightening the lamp. In her Keynote address, Emanuel Hansda, chairperson of the seminar and Assistant Professor, Department of Philosophy, well explained the objectives of the programme. Dr. Goutam Kumar Ghosh, the chief speaker of the day, gave an elaborative explanation about the non-violence theory that originated in ancient India. He also discussed that despite being a practicing Brahmo, Rabindranath Tagore never left any stone unturned in trying to delve into all kinds of religious teachings.

Khan College is the lone representative institution of Higher Education at Hariharpara, a Block within Berhampore Sub-Division of Murshidabad District in West Bengal. This institution started its journey at Hariharpara High School getting affiliation from University of Kalyani with Honours and General Courses in some traditional disciplines in Arts. Very soon the institution was shifted to the present location set up partly by Government aids along with generous donations from local people and people's representative. The focus of this institution rests primarily on nurturing excellence in the local young, who would be mentored to achieve success in their later professional and entrepreneurial ventures and lead a decent life. About the Seminar For the Buddha, nonviolence is a precept that enables the journey to experience the root meaning of itself. The nonviolence approach involves accepting that violence is wrong and nonviolence is the best ethical response to any conflict. Ahimsa means "Nonviolence is the personal practise of not causing harm to others under any condition. Rabindranath Tagore promulgated a vision of peace through the cultivation of the ideologies of Ahimsa, or non-violence, which he derived from the Bhagavad Gita and Advaita, or one- identity of the universe, which he derived from the Upanishads.
