ABOUT THE SEMINAR

The campaign theme for International Women's Day-2024 is Inspire Inclusion. It is with great honour and reverence that we pay homage to the remarkable achievements, resilience, and invaluable contributions of women worldwide. International Women's Day is not merely a date on the calendar; it is a powerful symbol of unity, empowerment, and progress. In commemorating this day, we acknowledge the ongoing struggle for gender equality, while celebrating the countless successes and advancements made by women in every sphere of life in shaping our world for the betterment. Yet, amidst the triumphs, we must also recognize the persistent challenges and injustices that continue to impede the full realisation of women's rights. Discrimination, gender-based violence, economic inequality and limited access to education and healthcare still afflict far too many women and girls around the globe. Here, in this seminar we will try to assess contribution of EDUCATION to accelerate PROGRESS of women around.

OBJECTIVES OF THE SEMINAR

- to inspire women inclusion in all related fields
- to acknowledge contributions of women
- to recognise women rights as well as challenges , injustices , gender-biased violence and inequalities faced by the women around
- to assess role of education in accelerating progress of women

SWOC Analysis

Strengths:

Relevance: The topic of the seminar aligns with current societal trends and issues, making it highly relevant and engaging for the college students.

Educational Value: Students can gain valuable insights about importance of women's education and its impact on personal and societal progress, complementing their academic curriculum.

Empowerment Focus: The seminar emphasises empowerment and advocacy for female students, thereby becoming agents of promoting gender equality and educational access.

Weaknesses:

Limited Awareness: Some students may not perceive the seminar as relevant or may be unaware of its significance, leading to lower attendance and engagement.

Lack of Diversity: There may be a lack of diverse perspectives among speakers or attendees, limiting the breadth of discussions and insights shared during the seminar.

Gender Bias: Despite the topic focusing on gender equality, there may still be challenges in addressing gender biases and ensuring equal participation and representation of all genders.

Opportunities:

Student Engagement: The seminar presents an opportunity for undergraduate students to actively engage in discussions, ask questions, and share their perspectives on the topic.

Skill Development: Students can develop valuable skills such as event planning, public speaking, and networking through involvement in organizing and participating in the seminar.

Follow-up Initiatives: The seminar can serve as a catalyst for ongoing initiatives focused on promoting women's education and empowerment within the university community.

Challenges:

Audience Engagement: Ensuring active participation and engagement from attendees, particularly in large seminar settings, can be challenging and may require innovative facilitation techniques.

Evaluation and Impact Assessment: Measuring the seminar's effectiveness in achieving its objectives and assessing its impact on attendees' attitudes and behaviors may pose methodological challenges.

Funding Constraints: Lack of sufficient funding or sponsorship may limit the scale and scope of the seminar, impacting aspects such as venue selection, speaker honorariums, and promotional materials.
