Programme: Observing “দাও ফিরে সে অরণ্য...” On the occasion of International Day of Forests

Programme Date: 21th March, 2022

Venue: Hazi A.K. Khan College

No of Participants: 16

Brief Description:

The cultural program unfolded as a dynamic and engaging celebration:

Welcome Address by Protyus Kumar Ghosh: The Head of the Geography Department, Protyus Kumar Ghosh, delivered a warm welcome, setting the tone for the program and emphasizing the significance of the International Day of Forests.

Inauguration with a Song by Students: The cultural program began with a musical performance—a melodious song presented by students. The choice of music created an atmosphere of reflection and harmony, aligning with the contemplative theme of the International Day of Forests.

Speech by Protyus Kumar Ghosh: Protyus Kumar Ghosh, HOD of Geography Department, delivered an enlightening speech on the significance of forests in our ecosystem. He emphasized the crucial role forests play in maintaining biodiversity, providing clean air and water, and preventing soil erosion.

Speech about International Day of Forests: Parimal Karmakar and Bubai Ghosh, Faculty of Geography Department, further enriched the understanding of the participants by their insightful speeches on the International Day of Forests. They highlighted the importance of observing this day and taking collective action to conserve our forests.

Presentation by Students: Students actively participated in a presentation session, sharing well-researched insights into the crucial role forests play in maintaining a healthy environment. This educational segment enriched the audience's understanding of the environmental impact of forests.

Poem: A soul-stirring poem on forests was recited by a student, leaving a deep impression on the audience. The poem beautifully captured the essence of forests and their profound connection with human existence.

Planting Trees by Students in College Campus: In a symbolic act of commitment towards environmental protection, students planted trees in the college campus. This hands-on activity reinforced the message of forest conservation and encouraged the participants to take personal responsibility for the environment.

The cultural programme concluded with a heartfelt vote of thanks by Prottyus Kumar Ghosh, HOD of Geography Department. He expressed his gratitude to all the participants and organizers for their contributions to the success of the event.

OBJECTIVES:

Our cultural program was meticulously planned to achieve specific objectives in celebration of the International Day of Forests:

The primary goal was to heighten awareness among participants about the indispensable role of forests in maintaining ecological balance and the pressing need for their conservation.

We aimed to express the profound significance of forests through diverse cultural forms, creating a deeper emotional connection with the cause.

Providing an educational platform for students to share insights into the role of forests in the environment was a crucial objective, enhancing the understanding of the audience.

Outcomes:

The cultural program yielded positive outcomes:

Participants left the event with heightened awareness about the crucial role of forests in maintaining ecological balance. They gained a deeper understanding of the immediate need for collective action in the conservation of these vital ecosystems.

The inclusion of a song, poem, and the symbolic act of planting trees allowed for a diverse and emotional expression of the participants' sentiments. This approach fostered a stronger connection with the cause, transcending mere intellectual understanding.

The presentation by students provided valuable educational insights, enriching the audience's understanding of the environmental impact of forests. It demonstrated the commitment of the academic community to learning and disseminating knowledge.
