Name of the event:	Awareness Programme on Adeno Virous
Date of the event:	25/03/2023
Venue of the event:	Keshaipur Village
Event category:	Health Awareness Programme
Number of Participants:	35

Objectives:

- To educate the local people about adenovirus infections and their symptoms.
- To raise awareness about the modes of transmission and risk factors associated with adenovirus.
- To provide information on effective preventive measures to reduce adenovirus-related health risks.

Brief Description of the Programme

On 25th March 2023, a door-to-door "Awareness Campaign on Adenovirus" was conducted in the vicinity of Keshaipur Village (adopted village). The Door-to-Door Awareness Campaign involved dedicated volunteers and members, students and teachers who went from house to house in the community surrounding Keshaipur Village. The campaign's focus was to bring crucial information and raise awareness about adenovirus-related health issues directly to residents' doorsteps.

SWOC Analysis

Strengths:

- The door-to-door approach ensured direct communication and engagement with residents.

Weaknesses:

- Resource constraints and limitations in reaching all households may have restricted the campaign's scope.

Opportunities:

- Future campaigns could collaborate with local hospital.

Challenges:

- Evaluating the long-term impact of the campaign could be challenging.

OUTCOMES

The Door-to-Door Awareness Campaign on Adenovirus successfully brought critical information and awareness directly to residents' homes. It achieved its primary objectives of educating the community about adenovirus infections, their risks, and preventive measures. The campaign empowered residents with knowledge to safeguard themselves and make informed healthcare decisions.
